

Regents Up Tuition for Fall Semester

By Leo Meidlinger

An increase of $2.00 per credit hour for undergraduate students was agreed upon yesterday at the monthly meeting of the University Board of Regents.

The increase is effective September 1, 1963 and will raise "that for the last several months tuition for resident students from $9 to $11 and from $18 to $20 for non-resident students. According to published figures this increase will bring an additional revenue of $560,000. $462,000 of this increase will go for salary increases and new faculty.

President Milo Bail said we (the regents and himself) having been telling people that the university needed $500,000 for salary increases and $500,000 for new buildings.

The tuition increase takes care of the salaries but we will have to forget about the buildings, president Bail added.

A budget of $4,200,479 was also approved by the regents. Tuition, taxes, and miscellaneous revenue will take care of $3,571,000 of the budget while the other $629,479 will come from a self supporting revolving fund which includes the bookstore, food service, parking meters, etc.

The students will pay 65.7 per cent or $2,348,000 of the total operating budget, while the taxpayer will pay only 30.8 per cent or $1,100,000. The other $133,000 or 3.5 per cent will come from the miscellaneous income.

Budget Up 22.7 Per Cent

The new budget is an increase of $759,166 over the 1962-63 budget of $3,441,313. This is an increase of 22.7 per cent. Dr. Bail said that many universities throughout the nation have increased their budgets as much as 40 to 50 per cent.

75.4 per cent or $2,691,343 of the total operating cost is to go for salaries; this includes social security, retirement and medical expenses; 15.1 per cent or $538,920 is slated for maintenance; 3 per cent or $106,937 will go for equipment; 2.3 per cent or $83,800 will go for hourly assistance; 2.5 per cent or $90,000 is headed for the library addition and 1.7 per cent or $60,000 for sinking fund for building reserve. This is all according to published figures.

The budget for 1963-64 is based upon estimated enrollment of 3,600 day students (per semester); 4,000 evening students (per semester); and 2,000 students in the summer school session (this includes both five week sessions).

Increase Summary

Increases for the 1963-64 are summarized as follows: salary increases are $462,231 or up 20.7 per cent; assistance is up $13,180 or 18.7 per cent; maintenance is up $50,589 or 10.4 per cent; equipment is up $34,000 or 46.6 per cent; and the biggest raise, $100,000 or 200 per cent for building and site.

President Bail noted that under the 1963-64 budget the average salary for a professor will be $10,450 (this is for nine months plus fringe benefits). This represents an increase of 9.5 per cent.

Associate professor's will receive an average of $8,585, which represents an increase of 4.9 per cent average assistant professor $7,343, or an increase of 5.3 per cent; average instructor will receive $6,167, an increase of 4.2 per cent. The average salary increase for all ranks is 6 per cent.

Dr. Bail also said that in the last 16 years faculty salaries have increased on an average of 7.5 per cent per year or 20 per cent.

Seven New Faculty Members

The Regents also approved the appointments of seven new faculty members, effective September 1, 1963.

Richard Brustkern, assistant professor of engineering, obtained his degree in metallurgical engineering in 1959 from Colorado School of Mines, Golden, Colorado. He comes to OU from Hudson Valley Community College, Troy, N. Y.

Mrs. Carol Ann Erickson, assistant instructor in English. She received her bachelor's degree from the University of Nebraska in 1960. She expects to receive her master's degree in January of 1964.

Brian Gfeller, mathematics instructor.

He received his bachelor's degree from Nebraska State Teachers College, Peru, and his master's from Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, O. He comes from Nebraska State Teachers College, Peru, where he has been an instructor the past year.

Gordon Hansen, assistant instructor in psychology.

He received his bachelors degree from OU in 1962. He expects to receive his masters degree this summer.

Dr. Charles Ingham, assistant professor of biology.

He received his bachelors degree, his masters degree, and his Ph.D., all from the University of Utah. He comes to OU from the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, where he has been a teaching assistant and a research fellow.

Richard McLellan, instructor in English.

He received his bachelors degrees from OU and his masters from the University of Nebraska. He comes from the University of Missouri, at Columbia, where he has been teaching for the last year.

Three Resignations Accepted

Roger Wadsworth, instructor in business administration. He received his bachelors degree from Ohio University, Athens, and his LL.B. from Ohio Northern University, Oda. He is currently working on his M.B.A. at Michigan State University where he is a part-time instructor.

The Regents also accepted three resignations.

Dr. Richard E. Allen, assistant professor of English; Phillip F. Ostwald, assistant professor of engineering; both August 31; and Dr. Donald Woods, Dean of the College of Adult Education, June 15.

The Regents also approved the Emeritus rank to H.H. Davison, professor of retailing since 1948; and Dr. Wilfred Payne, professor of philosophy and head of the humanities department since 1931. Both of them will retire August 31.

Fletcher Heads GATEWAY Crew

Dick Fletcher, a 20-year-old junior majoring in journalism, has been named editor-in-chief of the GATEWAY for the 1963 fall semester.

He was chosen to fill the post Monday by a unanimous vote of the Board of Student Publications.

"The GATEWAY shall continue to take an active voice in campus issues and serve as a sounding board for student opinion," Fletcher said.

"We shall strive," he said, "to meet our responsibilities to the students, the faculty and the administration in reporting the news about Omaha U."

Fletcher announced tentative appointments to GATEWAY management positions:

—Allan Johnson will serve as managing-news editor.

—Ellen Goesser is to be society editor.

—Ken McEwen will ramrod the sports department.

—Veteran newsmen Bill Grow will be feature editor.

—Mike Moran, currently sports editor, will be in charge of special events.

—Leo Meidlinger will move from his present position of copy editor to makeup editor.

—Mardelle Tarkington and Roger Prai are to be copy editors.

Election Is Official, Council Tie Exists

The tie between Mary Beth Meyers and Shirley Johnson for one of next year's Senior Class Student Council Representatives will be decided in a special Junior Class Election.

The election will be held next Wednesday, Council President Jim Leslie said.

According to Dean of Student Personnel, Donald Pflasterer, the tie resulted when the board counting last week's All-School Election ballots found one vote for Shirley Johnson with the Maie Princess ballots.

Before this Miss Meyers had won the Council Seat.

Pflasterer told the GATEWAY that there is no question of dishonesty involved and the election was run properly.

"This isn't the first time we've had ties in school elections and it won't be the last," Pflasterer said.

With the exception of the tie, the Student Council declared the results of last week's All-School Election official.

Leslie: Recount Held After Lost Legal Ballot Found in Wrong Box

Not all of the members of the counting board remained with the ballots cast in the May 8 all-school election until the results were official, according to Student Council President Jim Leslie.

Those who started to count the ballots were Leslie, Dean Elizabeth Hill, Dean Donald Pflasterer and William Gerbracht, director of student activities.

However, Leslie said Gerbracht left before the counting was finished "because he had to go home."

He said Dean Hill left "because she had to meet Miss (Ellen Lord,) library director.

And Dean Pflasterer left early because he had to attend a meeting, Leslie said.

Leslie said only the ballots for Student Council and Board of Student Publications had been counted when they left.

To get help in counting the ballots for Maie Day Princess, Leslie said he "appointed" Student Council member Rich Tompsett.

Tompsett Counted

Tompsett was a successful candidate for re-election to the Council, "but he had nothing to do with the Student Council ballots," Leslie said.

Unofficial results were posted on a bulletin board in the SC about 6:45 p.m., Wednesday, showing that Mary Beth Meyers was one of four elected as senior representatives to the Student Council.

Ballot Found

However, about 8:30 p.m., Leslie advised Miss Meyers that "another ballot for senior Student Council" had been found mixed with the ballots for Maie Princess.

He said the ballot was marked for Shirley Johnson, making it a tie with Miss Meyers for the fourth senior representative on the Council.

"Either I or Dean Hill found the ballot," Leslie said, "I don't remember for sure."

"It was a legal ballot," he said, "only I must have accidentally placed it in the box for the Princess ballots. And that's why it wasn't counted at first. No one picked it up off the floor or anything like that," he said.

Ballots in Boxes

Leslie said he and Dean Hill were responsible for placing the ballots in the proper boxes during the voting hours.

Also in question were the results in the race for two seats on the Board of Student Publications.

Earlene Timm definitely was a winner, Leslie said, "but Ken McEwen received only seven votes more than the candidate who was third."

Recount Necessary

Leslie decided to recount the ballots Thursday for Student Publications and senior representative to the Student Council "to be fair to everyone concerned."

A recount showed that Miss Meyers and Miss Johnson had, indeed, tied for the Student Council seat.

Earlene Timm and Ken McEwen were elected to the Board of Publications.

"Any of the candidates could have asked for a recount," Leslie said. But none did.

Because the Student Council does not release the tabulation of votes in an election, how would a candidate know whether a recount is warranted?

"I suppose he (the candidate) wouldn't know," he said.

Senior Class Day Program Begins Today

by J. D. Turner

The Class of '63 will see plenty of action as the final days roll around to graduation. The beginning of activities is today, proclaimed Senior Class Day.

Graduating seniors will meet at 11 a.m. in the West corridor, lower level of the SC and proceed to the second floor Ballroom.

At 11:30 seniors and their guests will hear a series of speakers. Senior Class President D. Graves will MC the program, Dr. Harris, one of the class sponsors, will give a brief "Charge to the Class." Ed Pechar, Class VP, will give his version of the Class Prophecy. Marilyn Spear, Class Secretary, will present the Class History as well as the Class Gift to the University.

Dr. Bail will accept the gift on behalf of the University. Lt. Col. Harry Dickenson (USMC) will fit the Bootstrappers into the Campus Community.

Seniors Honored

The highest grade point averages in Men's and women's divisions will be honored. Suzanne Sipherd heads the girls with a 3.8617 and Stephen Mathias Schicker tops the troupes with a 3.5806. Both are for seven semesters in the College of Liberal Arts. Sipherd is majoring in biology and Schicker in English.

Recipients of sorority, fraternity, association and business awards will be announced by Deans Elizabeth Hill and John

HOW TO SEE EUROPE FOR ONLY $300 A DAY: NO. 3

When all of you go to Europe during your summer vacation, you will certainly want to visit Spain, where the tall corn grows,

The first thing you will notice upon entering Spain is the absence of sibilants. In Spain "s" is pronounced "th" and thereby hangs a tale. Until the reign of Philip IV—or Guy Fawkes, as he was sometimes called—Spaniards said "s" just like everybody else. Philip IV, however, lisped, and Spaniards, having an ingrained sense of propriety and not wishing to embarrass their monarch, decided that everybody should lisp. This did indeed put Philip IV very much at his ease, but in the end it turned out to be a very bad thing for Spain. It wrecked the sassafraz industry—Spain's principal source of revenue—and reduced the nation to a second-class power.

As a result, Spaniards were all forced to turn to bull fighting in order to keep body and soul together. Today, wherever you go in Spain—in Madrid, in Barcelona, in Toledo, in Cleveland—you will see bulls being fought. For many years the bulls have sought to arbitrate this long-standing dispute, but the Spaniards, a proud people who use nothing but Castile soap, have rejected all overtures.

It is therefore necessary for me to explain bull fighting to anyone who is going to Spain. It is also necessary for me to say a few words about Marlboro Cigarettes because they pay me for writing this column, and they are inclined to pout if I ignore their product. In truth, it is no chore for me to sing the praises of Marlboro Cigarettes, for I am one who fairly swoons with delight when I come upon a cigarette which gives you the full, rich taste of good tobaccos plus the pure white Selectrate filter, and Marlboro is the only smoke I have found that fulfills both requirements. Oh, what a piece of work is Marlboro! The flavor reaches you without stint or diminution. You, even as I, will find these statements to be happily true when once you light a Marlboro. Marlboros come to you in soft pack or Flip-Top box, and are made only by the makers of Marlboro.

But I digress. Let us return to bull fighting. Bulls are by nature bellicose creatures who will keep fighting till the cows come home. Then they like to put on pipe and slippers and listen to the "Farm and Home Hour." However, the Spaniards will not allow the bulls any surcease. They keep attacking the bull and making veronicas—a corn meal pancake filled with ground meat. Bulls, being vegetarians, reject the veronicas and then, believe you me, the fur starts to fly!

To be perfectly honest, many Spaniards have grown weary of this incessant struggle, and have left their homeland. Columbus, for example, took off in three little ships—the Patti, the Maxene, and the Laverne—and discovered Ohio. Magellan later discovered Columbus. Balboa also sailed to the New World, but he was silent on a peak in Darien, so it is difficult to know what he discovered.

Well sir, I guess that's all you need to know about Spain. So now, as the setting sun casts its rosy fingers over El Greco, let us take our reluctant leave of Spain—or Perfidious Albion, as it is jocularly called. Aloha, Spain or Perfidious Albion, aloha!

© 1963 Max Shulman

Let us not, however, take our leave of smoking pleasure. Let us keep enjoying those fine Marlboro Cigarettes—rich, golden tobacco—pure white Selectrate filter—soft pack or Flip-Top box—available in all fifty States of the Union.

Was There Bungling in the Student Council Election

'Downright Sloppy'

A number of students have questioned whether there was any bungling in the May 8 school elections.

It appears their curiosity is justified. Parts of the counting procedure were downright sloppy.

This is not to question anyone's integrity. But we are questioning the method of counting ballots.

Results in the race for senior representatives to the Student Council were changed after they had once been counted because an extra ballot was found mixed with the ballots for Maie Princess.

Final results of the Board of Student Publications election were in question for a day until a special recount could be held.

Student Council President Jim Leslie, who was in charge of the election, said those who started to count the ballots should have stayed with it until the counting was finished.

But Leslie was the only one who stuck it out and he had to call in help from Council member Rich Tompsett.

The Student Council should give serious consideration to tightening its rules on elections.

Perhaps it should be made mandatory that all those who are involved in the counting should stay with the ballots until the results are official.

The Student Council has a policy of not revealing the final count in student elections so the candidates "won't be embarrassed."

The tally should no longer be secret.

If a student has the courage to be a candidate in these popularity contests, then he should have the courage to see the final tally.

Knowing that the tally will be made public just might give a candidate more incentive to get elected.

It's no disgrace to be defeated when a candidate honestly seeks election.

If a student should receive only a handful of votes, it would appear rather obvious that he wasn't very interested in getting elected.

Furthermore, under the current practice, a candidate doesn't know whether a recount is warranted. If the candidate would know the results, he would have some idea of whether a recount is justified.

Finally, we suggest that the Student Council should bring the counting out from behind the secrecy of closed doors into public view.

This might give the students more confidence in the results of an election.

Our Elections (?)

Perhaps this is an ideal time to revive the old story about the three Democrats who were out on the ocean in a very small boat.

The Democrats happened to be President Kennedy, Secretary of State Rusk and Mayor Daly of Chicago.

The boat started to sink and the three Dems realized that only one could stay aboard. Which one was to stay?

President Kennedy: "Obviously, gentlemen, I should be the one to stay because I am head of the nation and the nation needs me."

Secretary Rusk: "Begging your pardon, Mr. President, but as Secretary of State, I should stay because the world needs me."

Mayor Daly: "Gentlemen, we must remember that we are the products of a democratic society and I believe we should vote upon the issue."

So the three Democrats voted. And Mayor Daly won—8 to 2.

Medal Recipient Tours Washington

Col. Jack Treadwell spent two "very enjoyable" days in Washington, D.C., where he, along with other Congressional Medal of Honor winners, were honored at a reception by President Kennedy.

Col. and Mrs. Treadwell left Omaha May 1st, and on arrival in Washington stayed at the International Inn with the other guests. There they were given a reception that night and a patio luncheon the next day.

Thursday evening, May 2nd, they attended the reception at the White House. They assembled at the South Portico where they were welcomed by the President. They all shook hands with Mr. Kennedy and then had a reception on the South Lawn, after which the President mingled with the crowd.

This was the first time that Col. Treadwell met Mr. Kennedy and said he was a very "down to earth" person.

Official Notice

Special election will be held Wednesday, May 22, in the Student Organizations room to break the tie for Senior Student Council between Shirley Johnson and Mary Beth Meyers.

The same election rules will apply — no organized campaigning.

The polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

In Spring Young Man's Fancy Turns to Autos

by Marilyn Higgs

Girls don't always have top priority on young men's attention during the spring! At least not during the weeks before the auto show in Omaha.

After all, it takes a lot of time to prepare a winning car. You can ask any of the Omaha University students who were entrants or trophy winners. A great deal of thought and imagination has to be put into a car as they are judged on originality of design and condition.

Jack and Roger Nicholson took first place with Roger's red Corvette in the sports drag racing class. The car was completely waxed and the undercarriage was painted black.

Michael Sacks was second place winner in the sports drag racing class with his yellow Corvette, "Lemon Drop." It featured a black naugahyde interior and trunk, custom lemon paint job, magnesium wheels, chrome engine, and black undercarriage.

In the compact class, Tom Behrens won third place trophy for his 1960 bronze Comet, "Pagen Idol." The interior is rolled and pleated white naugahyde, with white fur rugs. The exterior is moderately pin striped, lowered and has a bullet grill.

Third place winner of the sports drag racing class was Howard Olson with his 1963 Stingray. The car has a bronze paint job and magnesium wheels.

Frank Hall entered his 1929 Ford sedan both this year and last, although he did not take home a trophy this year he won first place in his class last year.

Jack Wilson entered his 1960 Corvette. This car is painted apple red and has a custom candy front end.

There was approximately 250 vehicles of all classes entered in this year's 8th annual Motor Sports Auto Show; each car was a product of the owner's originality.

The cars are judged on interior, paint, engine, trunk, undercarriage and body work.

Every year the auto show is where you can fine all the latest trends in design and structure.

Colors and Styles Distinguish Grads

As the graduation procession forms June 3rd, there will be some distinguished features about each individual graduate. These will be shown in the color of tassel of his mortar board.

Each college within Omaha University has a different color for the graduates which is standardized all over the United States. The Convention of 1895 standardized all the costumes for American schools.

Graduates in the Applied Arts college will be wearing orange-gold tassels. The only group under this college different from the others will be the nurses who wear green.

The Business Administration graduates wear drab tassels and the College of Education have blue. The Bachelor of General Education under the College of Adult Education graduates wear black, because no specific color was assigned to them, and black is always appropriate.

Graduates in the college of Liberal Arts tassels are white, with the exception of those getting BFA degrees, which are signified by brown tassels.

Masters degrees are easily recognized by the hoods which are placed on the graduates after they receive their degree. A Master of Science hood is gold with velvet trim and a Master of Arts hood is lined in white.

The Bachelors robes are traditionally maroon with black chevrons. Originally robes were required to be made of corded silk, but now are made of many various materials.

Members of the faculty will wear robes that differ widely from the graduates. Those who hold a Doctor of Philosophy degree will have blue trimming on the robe, and doctorate degrees are always distinguished by a gold tassel.

Regents Appoint Utley to Fill Woods' Position in Adult Ed

Professor William T. Utley is the new Dean of the College of Adult Education at the University of Omaha. He will also be director of summer sessions. He will assume his new duties June 15.

This announcement was made yesterday by the University Board of Regents.

The 49-year-old Utley has been at the University since 1948 as professor of political science and head of the department. He will continue in this capacity.

Mr. Utley has been active in many city and campus affairs. He was coordinator of the Omaha City Charter Convention in 1956; president-elect (1963-64) of the Downtown Kiwanis Club; board member of the First Methodist Church; member of the Omaha Volunteer Bureau; Metropolitan Council (1959); Director of the Institute for Public Affairs which sponsors the annual World Affairs Institute and the American Heritage series; sponsor of the OU chapter of Young Republicans; member of Nebraska Wesleyan Foundation (Methodist student organization); Mid-west Political Science Conference; and American Political Science Association.

In 1958-59 Mr. Utley was named Omaha United Nations Day Chairman by the mayor.

Professor Utley is a native of Arkansas. He received his bachelor's degree from Hendrix College, Conway, Arkansas; his master's from the University of Arkansas. He has also studied at the University of Chicago.

The new Dean has given five credit courses on "TV Classroom" (KMTV, Channel 3) during the last 10 years.

One of his pet projects has been the annual World Affairs Institute, now in its 15th year. The Institute, co-sponsored by several Omaha civic organizations, brings six lecturers to the campus each fall.

Mr. Utley replaces Dean Donald Z. Woods, who resigned three days ago, to accept a similar position at the University of Minnesota.

A Clipping Job

Getting out this paper is no picnic. If we print a joke people say we are silly. If we don't they say we're too serious. If we clip things from other papers, we are too lazy to write them ourselves. If we don't, we're stuck on ourselves. If we stick too close to the job all day, we ought to be out hunting news. If we do get out and try to locate news, we ought to be on the job in the office. If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate true genius. And if we do print them, the paper is filled with junk. If we made a change in the other fellow's copy we're too critical. If we don't we're sleepy. Now, like as not, somebody will say we swiped this from some other paper. We did, "all of it."

Czech Film to Be Shown at 8 Tonite

"Janosik", a movie that was rated in the Top 10 foreign films by the National Board of Review of 1937, will appear at 8 tonight at the Conference Center Auditorium.

The story deals with Janosik, Czech national hero, often referred to as the Robin Hood of the Carpathian Mountains, and how he defends the Czechoslovakian peasants from the Magyar Lords in the 18th Century.

The film was primarily arranged for CAE Czechoslovakian language course, but all students are invited to view the film without admission. The story is filmed in Czech dialogue with English-dubbed subs.

Concert Presented By OU Orchestra

The University of Omaha Town and Gown Orchestra presented a concert Tuesday in the SC Ballroom.

The orchestra serves as an academic unit of the University as a training organization for students and as a cultural activity for the citizens of Omaha and surrounding communities.

The objectives of the orchestra are to "acquaint its members with standard orchestral literature, of developing proficiency in sight reading and ensemble playing and acquiring a correct sense of tonality and a mastery of rhythm."

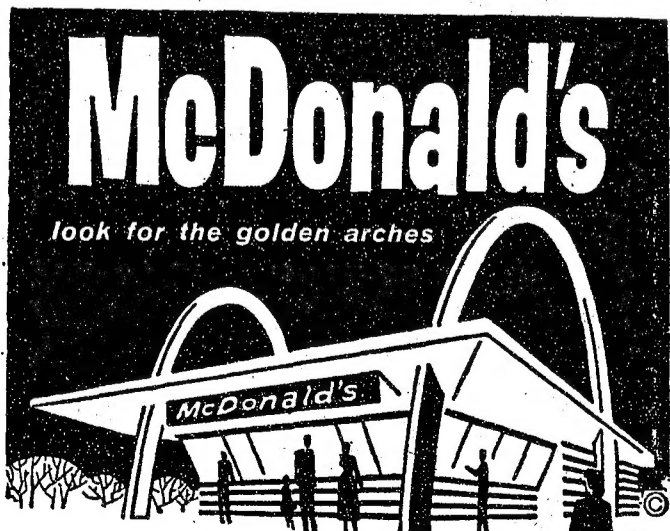

The Orchestra under the direction of Dr. James Peterson presented compositions by Beethoven, Bach-Abert, Stamitz, Kindler and Hart.

Student Council Elect Kersey as President

Student Council elected officers at their regular meeting Tuesday, May 14. New members were initiated at this time.

The 1963-64 officers are: president, Dud. Kersey; vice-president, Rich Tompsett; secretary, Judy Eichhorn; treasurer, Jim Grasso.

Summer's coming, get going!

If this isn't a great time to get yourself a new Chevrolet—well, we just don't know when is. Why, you'd almost have to be anti-summer not to let one of these four convertibles get to you. Or any of Chevrolet's sedans, wagons, sport coupes and sport sedans, for that matter.

And there are a lot of other buy-now reasons besides the season. Like the care-free feeling you get on a long vacation trip in a brand-new car. And it's a smart time to trade, what with your Chevrolet dealer all stocked up for a busy summer. Chances are, he has just the model and color you want—be it Chevrolet, Chevy II, Corvair or Corvette—ready to go right now.

So maybe now you're all wound up? Then spring into summer at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Dr. Woods to Leave In July, Praises OU

Dr. Donald Z. Woods, dean of the College of Adult Education will leave Omaha University July 15 to become the associate dean of general extension at the University of Minnesota.

The new position may be likened to a "homecoming" for Dean Woods, since he is a native of Minnesota, earned his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at the University of Minnesota and taught there as an associate professor for 11 years.

In addition to his duties as associate dean, Dean Woods will also hold an academic rank of professor.

Came in 1959

He came to OU May 1, 1959 as an assistant to the President. In 1960, he took over as dean of the CAE. In the four years Dean Woods has been at OU, there have been many on-campus changes. Additions such as the Student and Conference Centers have enabled the CAE, in conjunction with other university departments to present foreign films, art exhibitions and other fine arts programs.

In reference to his work, Dean Woods said he is "happy that a great number of adult classes continue to grow in size and diversity, that Omaha University has been able to extend its services through special evening programs, such as Law Enforcement and Security and is pleased with the student activity events, many of which have been designed to complement offerings of other academic departments."

Dean Woods "likes OU tremendously. In efficiency, it rates as one of the top educational institutions in the country." He recalls the time when he telephoned Dexter Keezer, financial advisor and writer for "This Week Magazine," about appearing on an OU program. Mr. Keezer replied before giving his consent, "University of Omaha? That's the school that gets more education miles for every tax dollar than any other place in the country."

Dean Woods also cited President Bail and praised the work of the Board of Regents. He feels as far as students, faculty and staff are concerned, "There's not a nicer group of people anywhere."

Organizations

In conjunction with his work he belongs to a number of professional organizations. Among them are the Adult Education Association of U. S. A. Nebraska Adult Education Council of which vice-president and Omaha Adult Educational Council. He is also a member of downtown Kiwanis, The Education Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Housing for the Aged Committee of the United Community Service.

"Omaha University is a fine university," Dean Woods said. "I am most happy to have been a member of the university family for four years."

Favored Omaha University Puts 18-1 Mark on Line In NAIA Action Today

Omaha University, after an absence of one year, opens defense of its NAIA District 11 title today in Topeka, Kansas. The Indians drew a bye in this morning's opening round and will play the winner of the Arkansas State-Sterling, Kan., game this afternoon. If the Indians win, they will then meet the winner of the Wayne-Washburn game still later in the day.

Thus, the whole tournament will be decided today and the winner will go on to meet the South Dakota-North Dakota District winner for the right to go St. Joseph, Missouri, and the national finals.

OU pitching strong

Omaha must be rated the favorite if only on the basis of its deeper pitching strength. Coach Yelkin can call on four and maybe five hurlers and get a top performance. Ken McEwen has been a season long standout and sports a 7-0 mark. Larry Krehbiel has a 5-0 log and has issued nary a pass in his last few outings.

Durable Frank Pecha has recovered from a sore arm and has come through with a 4-1 mark. His loss to Washburn ace Ron Heck is the only loss for OU so far in an 18-1 season. Bill Drefs, a freshman southpaw and little Johnny Bozak each chalked up one win for the Indians this year. Bozak went the distance to beat South Dakota State and has shown that he is ready to help the cause when needed. The former prep school whiz is suffering from a jammed thumb this week but is expected to be ready for play today and tomorrow at Topeka.

Hitting sporadic

Omaha hitting has been good, if not spectacular, all year long. The Indians have ten men hitting over .300 but lack of the long ball has been a budding problem. Wayne Backes is rounding into form after a so-so first half and Ken Smith is belting the ball like a veteran and sports a .375 average. Ken Allen, a .202 hitter last year has come on strong to lead the team most of the way in batting and Joe Neuberger has had his usual good season both at the plate and around the keystone sack.

Bill Wachtler has been weak at the plate but has teamed with Neuberger to make a fine double play combo for OU. Eddie Bryant has hit well for a rookie, but has had a few fielding problems at third.

Paul Kaster has come on with a rush after being given a starting shot at third and in left. The speedy junior has been outstanding at getting on base and has come up with several great catches in the outfield.

Prospects appear good that Omaha University will once again return to the NAIA baseball tournament in 1963 and this just may be the year that the Indians take it all.

Victory Chain Grows

Omaha University's baseball team closed out the home season with victories of 5 to 3 and 7 to 3 over St. Benedicts on Tuesday.

With the wins the Indians clinched an NAIA play-off berth and a share of the Central Intercollegiate Conference title.

The Indians have a 5-1 CIC mark for the season, losing only to Washburn. The Ichabods, who split with the Indians earlier this year, have a 7-1 record in conference play. OU was rained out of a loop double-header with Pittsburgh State a couple of weeks ago.

Larry Krehbiel, making his first start since being bombed at Rockhurst on April 27, went the route and picked up his fifth victory against no defeats against St. Benedicts.

Krehbiel gave up three runs on four hits while striking out five Ravens in the opener, but lefty Bill Drefs took top pitching honors for the day.

Drefs made his college debut as a starter in the second game allowing only one earned run and registering three strikeouts in five innings of the second game.

Outfielder Ken Smith led the Indians' nine-hit attack with a double and two singles in four trips to the plate in the opener. Joe Neuberger duplicated the feat in the nightcap, and Ken Allen added a bases-empty homer.

OU picked up victory number 16 last Friday over South Dakota State behind the strong pitching of John Bozak, by the score of 7 to 1.

The southpaw reliever started the game and gave up only one un-earned run to the Jackrabbits, which came in the ninth inning.

The game scheduled for last Saturday in Brookings was rained out. An inch of rain fell on Thursday, nearly washing out the nine-inning contest that was played.

Tonight's scheduled game with Creighton at Municipal Stadium will be postponed, according to coach Virgil Yelkin, and Tuesday's game at Lincoln with Nebraska Wesleyan will also be cancelled if OU wins the NAIA play-off in Topeka this week end.

Intramurals Finish; Sig Ep Golfers Win

With most of the intramural activity finished for the year, softball and a couple of make up golf matches are the only things left.

Hustling Sprinters, Hunter Lead OU Surge to 3rd

How they finished:

Emporia St.—79 Fort Hays—35
Pittsburg—63 Washburn—27
Omaha U—52

Emporia State walked away with another CIC track championship at Pittsburg, Kansas, last Saturday but Omaha University, lead by several inspired performances, took third for the highest OU finish in CIC history.

Emporia's distance men shined in the final tabulations, but Omaha's swift sprint corps, led by Rocket Roger Sayers and freshman Terry Williams, put the Indians in the spotlight most of the day.

During the prelims on Friday, the pair smashed two conference records, only to see a wind wipe them off the books. Sayers turned in a 9.6 100 and Williams tied the old record of 9.7.

Williams came back with a 20.7 220 for a new record while Sayers was tying the old one with a 20.8.

In the finals on Saturday, Sayers ran 9.7 while Williams took second at 9.8. In the 220, Sayers won with 21.2.

Bruce Hunter was the surprise of the day as he took both hurdles events from Emporia's ace, Charles Richards. Hunter took the highs in 24.0 after running a fast 23.8 on Friday and he whipped over the lows in 14.8.

OU's 440 relay team turned in a 42.1 clocking for another Indians first. The foursome of Mel Wade, Sayers, Williams and Hunter already have set an OU record of 42.0 at the Emporia Relays earlier this year.

Mile Relay team wins

Possibly the biggest surprise of the day was OU's great effort in the mile relay. Running against Pittsburg State, who have a 3:11.0 to their credit this year, the Indians caught the Gorillas at the tape for an OU record of 3:15.6.

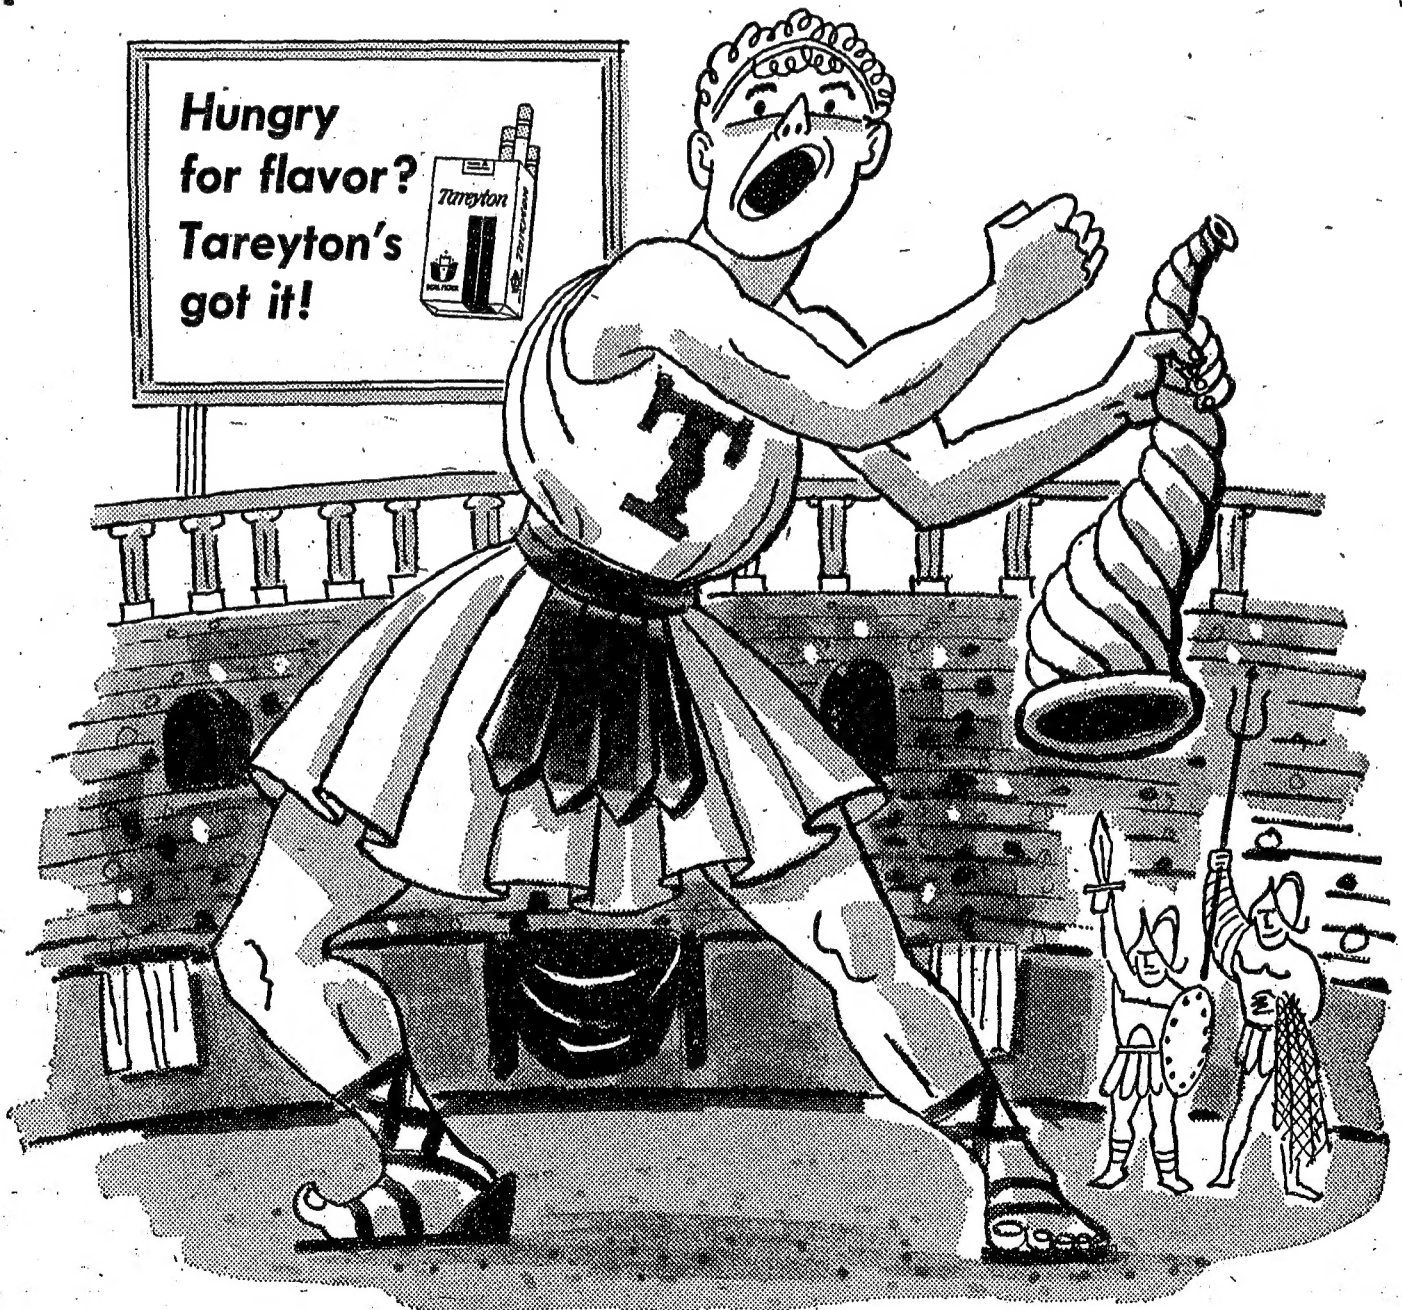

Roger Sayers, OU's anchor man, made up a deficit of ten yards while running an anchor leg of 47.4. The Rocket broke away on the last turn and ran away with the race.

Ray Hultman and Herb Rhodes were the other OU sparklers in the surprising Indian showing. Hultman ran a 1:57.4 half mile during the prelims to smash another Omaha record. Rhodes ran a 1:57.5 but did not qualify in a fast field. In the finals, Hultman took fourth with a 1:57.7.

Rhodes was entered in the open mile and responded with an OU record of 4:30.6. The old record was 4:36.4 set in 1958 by Ralph Keill.
